

General Information

Introduction

First settled in 1623 as a Dutch trading post called the "House of Hope," the City of Hartford is now a place of growth and opportunity for a widely diverse population. The City combines a rich blend of history, culture and architectural gems with a progressive attitude towards business, education and neighborhood economic development. Hartford is home to such internationally known treasures as the Wadsworth Atheneum, the nation's first public museum. Other spectacular historical and performing arts attractions include, but are not limited to, the Mark Twain House, Hartford Stage, Bushnell Memorial Hall and The Artists Collective. Companies such as Aetna, Travelers, Phoenix and The Hartford Financial Services Group have their roots here, in addition to industrial giants like United Technologies. Today the City is experiencing a resurgence evidenced by development in the Front Street District, the planned relocation of a University of Connecticut branch to the City and the State of Connecticut purchase of office space in downtown Hartford. To find out more about the City of Hartford please visit us at www.hartford.gov.

Hartford, the Capital City of Connecticut, was founded in 1636. The Connecticut Colony's Fundamental Orders, adopted in Hartford in 1639, was the first document in history to establish a government by the consent of the people. The City of Hartford was incorporated in 1784 and its Charter was adopted on May 1, 1947, introducing a Council-Manager form of government. An ordinance adopting a revision and codification of the City of Hartford Charter became effective upon approval by the Mayor on July 10, 1990. The voters of the City amended the charter on November 5, 2002 to provide for the Mayor as the chief executive officer of the City. The executive and administrative powers of the City are vested in the Mayor, except as otherwise provided by the Charter.

Elected officials of the City include the Mayor, Treasurer and nine City Council Members. Terms of office are four years. The nine elected council members comprise the Court of Common Council. No more than six council members may be from the same political party. Council positions that become vacant during the four years are filled by majority vote of the Council until the next election. The authority of the Office of the Mayor comes from the City of Hartford Charter, Municipal Code and the State of Connecticut General Statutes. This power includes appointing the Chief Operating Officer, Corporation Counsel, the heads of all departments and all members of all boards, commissions, agencies, authorities and additional bodies of the City.
