MAYOR SEGARRA PRESENTS
JOBS & ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT PLAN
TO MALLOY/WYMAN TRANSITION TEAM

---NEWS AND COMMUNITY RELEASE---

(December 28, 2010)--- Earlier today, Hartford Mayor Pedro E. Segarra presented a jobs and economic development policy memo to members of Governor-Elect Dan Malloy's Transition Team, of which the Mayor serves as a proud member. The memo was also presented to the Co-Chairs of the Steering and Policy Committees and the Co-Chairs of the Jobs/Economic Development Working Group.

"Everyone is keenly aware that the state's financial investment capacity is limited because of the difficult economy. However, the initiatives contained in my proposal, which I developed in conjunction with the Governor-Elect's Jobs and Economic Security Plan, place a greater focus on the needs of cities, where the state's job challenges are the greatest and solutions are most needed. By building on best practices already in place and strengthening our urban centers, together, the entire state can thrive," said Mayor Segarra.
