

FILM—IN SICKNESS AND IN WEALTH

Is there a connection between your health & your bank account?
Come and find out!

What are the connections between healthy bodies, healthy bank accounts and skin color? This episode travels to Louisville, Kentucky, not to explore whether medical care cures us but to see why we get sick in the first place, and why patterns of health and illness reflect underlying patterns of class and racial inequities.

Bring your Blanket and join us for the film and discussion on how Health Inequities in your community could be affecting you.
